

THE CHOPSTICKERS

WHO IS?

Interested in holistic medicine, health, urban Asian cuisine, outdoor adventuring, David Chang's Lucky Peach, fusion, cocktails in Kimonos, Japanese culture with a contemporary twist, architecture, rooftop pools.

Mode of transportation: Dutch bicycles, or long strolls through urban greenery before reaching the locale

Clothing: Slim jeans, silk, APC trench coats. Basically, anything sleek and breathable

Music: Delorean, Cut Copy, Annie Lennox

THE SETTING:

A rooftop pool downtown. Guests slip into the pool for a quick dip. Refreshed, they pick their silk kimonos off the ground and head to the DIY noodle bar for sculptural noodle bowls and pomegranate martinis. The sun sets and the water turns emerald. It's Kabuki time.

THE MENU:

Pear and Pomegranate Martinis

Shaken. Not Stirred.

Fusion Tea Bar

Served with Antique Japanese Tea Pots, Green and Berry Teas

DIY Noodle Bar

Chicken Stock, Artisanal Myojo Chukazanmai Japanese noodles, Soba noodles, chashu sliced pork, kamaboko, scallions, green onions, Sriracha spicy sauce

Emerald Seaweed Salad

Wagashi Cakes with Lavender Ice Cream
